Recruitment management made simple

ConsultCIH and Inside Housing have developed this innovative recruitment and talent management platform which helps registered providers improve recruitment processes and manage existing talent within their organisations.

What is i-Talent?

The i-Talent software package enables housing providers to systematise their recruitment processes, track applications, shortlist and complete all necessary pre-employment checks. The system reduces staff time required to process jobs and applications quickly and effectively and includes an easy-to-use, high quality, branded microsite to advertise job opportunities. It also features advanced equality and diversity monitoring and reporting measures at every stage.

Who is i-Talent designed for?

The core product has been designed to meet the needs of small and medium registered providers who may not have their own human resources teams. It enables them to improve the quality of their application processing while reducing staff time and costs. The i-Talent team will be working with registered providers to assess how much time and money they have saved.

How much does i-Talent cost?

It is completely free. Registered providers simply need to complete a pre-registration process and member of the i-Talent team will visit your office to carry out a demonstration. The system is designed with minimal support needs, so once in place it can be run easily in-house.

Why is i-Talent provided free?

i-Talent will prove its value, especially to small and medium housing providers. There are no conditions attached and no requirement to purchase any other product. Inside Housing hopes that its association with i-Talent will be seen as a positive step to support the housing sector. ConsultCIH already works with many housing organisations and believes that this new product will offer a real benefit to those with no dedicated human resources team. It is hoped that providers using i-Talent will continue their association with both ConsultCIH and Inside Housing, but there is no financial or legal requirement to do so.
